TIPS FOR SEPTEMBER

Calling 911 on your cell phone is not a good idea.

Your wireless has a big limitation. It doesn't give the operator your exact location. If you can't talk or are too agitated to think clearly, it may be difficult for first responders to locate you. If you are outdoors, the cell phone has a good chance to know your location. Not so indoors. That's where you would be better off calling on a land line. In most cases, the operator will know your location. If you have to call from a cell, try to be aware of your location to give to the operator. It will also help if you know what city or neighborhood you're in so the operator can provide the closest police or fire department.

There's a new gas tax coming in January

Resources Board expanding its cap and trade program. This increase could be from 16 cents to 76 cents per gallon! It means the average driver will pay between $7 to $10 more every time they fill up. California already taxes its citizens 68 cents per gallon, the second highest amount in the nation. This tax will make us number one. Its effect will increase the price of virtually all goods and services delivered in our state. A coalition is forming to educate Californians and fight this tax before it takes effect. Supporters urge individuals to call and write their state representatives and ask them to delay this new cap-and-trade tax.

Experience isn't expensive... it's PRICELESS!

In our interest in keeping our environment green, we pass on this latest tip. For polishing anything from silver to jewelry to vehicles, use cloth diapers. They can't be outdone and they won't leave lint on mirrors or windows.

In many parts of the country, this is the time of year to close up the garden.

For us in Southern California, there's still lots to do in the yard. Feed citrus for the last time this year and water trees less as the weather cools. This is the perfect time of year to plant a tree to beautify your yard. The soil is still warm to encourage the roots to get established. Trim deadwood off your trees but leave major pruning for January when the trees are dormant Also, it's a great time for starting or reseeding lawns.
